

A Talk & Discussion

“Sharing current status of BUSINESS ANALYTICS Curriculum, Interest, Practice, Work Opportunity, and Research in USA”

By Prof. Dr. Ranida Boonthanom Harris,
The undergraduate curriculum committee chair of MIS,
The Indiana University Southeast,
USA.

on Thursday June 14, 2018 at Classroom 4/2 , 4th floor, SIT Bld.

- 10.00 A.M. - 11.15 A.M. for SIT faculty members and other interested KMUTT faculty members
Topic: Business analytics curriculum and research
- 11.15 A.M. - 12.00 A.M. for students
Topic: Business analytics-related skills for the job market

BIOGRAPHY

Ranida Boonthanom Harris is a Professor of Management Information Systems at Indiana University Southeast. She received her Ph.D. in Management Information Systems from Florida State University. Her research interests include the effects of computer technologies on communication, performance, and decision making. Ranida’s teaching interests include business computer applications, business data analytics, Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) Systems, systems analysis and design, and database management systems.

If you are interested in this talk and discussion,

please reserve a seat at <https://goo.gl/forms/a7RSykLHO6PsgRXs2> or QR Code

By Monday June 11th, 2018

For more information, please contact Ms. Paweena, paweena@sit.kmutt.ac.th
Thank you.

